

HOSPITAL ELEVATORS FOR TREATING GRAIN

Canadian Senate Committee Discussion of Grain Bill—Amendments Introduced by Sir Richard Cartwright—No Evidence of Grain Trust in West.

Ottawa, May 2.—In the Upper House, Sir Richard Cartwright, in committee on the grain bill, said he had some amendments to propose which he thought would not be contentious. They provided for hospital elevators for treatment of damaged grain. There were several amendments, but the chief one was to require 125 and provided that the grain commission should license as hospital elevators for treatment of damaged or rejected grain such a number of elevators at terminal points as they chose. They shall require a bond from each elevator and any one having grain so treated shall have the right to have such grain reimpounded. Senator Watson said the law now enacted damp and emphysema and what has been treated should have a higher grade than No. 2 northern.

Sensor Young said that the committee should look carefully into this proposal as it was desirable to keep Canadian grain up to standard, so that its reputation would not be carried Liverpool.

Sensor Thompson and Senator Leighton wanted to know why grain after treatment should not be graded on its merits.

Sensor Young said he saw no reason why grain that had been treated a grade because of dirt, should not be given a proper grade after cleaning for instance. It was only dirt, consisting of half a cent and half wheat some to an impurity, but not sufficient to refuse it any grade, though both the oats and wheat might be No. 1 after separating it. It was only dirt that they should get their proper grade. However, the wheat was a little wheat, which had been chemically treated, was different. He thought that it would be wise to have that sort of grain limited to a maximum grading of No. 2.

An amendment was made to give effect to this suggestion.

Sensor Young continued the general debate. He declared that the bill and the business it dealt with were of great importance that it should receive the very best consideration. He had, he said, to have that interest or indirectly in any terminal elevator, though it was not directly connected with his business in some country elevators. He, therefore, belonged to the class of men who were interested in the bill. He was interested in it because it was claimed were likely to be wiped out if section 125 and others were changed as the committee proposed. The committee had given the fullest opportunity for everybody who wished to be heard. The chairman had been very fair and had seen to it that every one who wanted to give evidence got a fair show.

Some statements had been misleading. It had been stated that there was a huge grain trust in the west which controlled most of the country elevators and terminals. The evidence did not bear out this statement. It was true that some companies owning line elevators had combined and obtained terminal elevators for the handling of their export business as railroad companies combined and built a terminal station for their joint use. It was true that a number of a general grain combine. Statements of misdeeds had been alleged against all terminal elevators. Evidence, however, showed that out of the elevators operating there as terminals only three had ever been offenders. Then it was said that the elevators permitted over Canadian grain between the farm and Liverpool had been charged against the terminal elevators at Fort William, one point where there was inspection and should have protection. There were opportunities for manipulation of grain at other points along the route after the inspection point was passed. When that was ascertained, it was found that the United States it was important to note that this grain was bonded by bulk and not by grade.

London, May 2.—The Morning Post today says President Taft's scheme for a tariff barrier in the way of the development of the United States is a reference can only succeed if the people of England are unwilling to grant the tariff offered by their kinsmen. NEW UNION BANK BUILDING ERECTED AT COST OF $60,000, OPENS TOMORROW

The new building on Jasper Avenue, east, immediately opposite Toronto street, erected by the Union Bank of Canada, will open to the public tomorrow morning. The building is a fine example of architectural design, being of the Ionic type. The deep beams, with forested moldings and columns which stand entirely free of the building, give it a very handsome effect. The woodwork is of mahogany, and has been installed by the Canadian Office and Specialty Co., of Preston, Ontario.

The entire ground floor is taken up with the office of the bank. Entering in the centre of the building, across the lobby, is a room for the public morning. On the right is the bank's office of the manager, and on the left a room for the accommodation of the lady customers of the bank. The office is 50 feet by 50 feet and is perfectly lighted and ventilated.

The building was designed by W. L. Line, architect, and the contractor was Edgar & Nesbitt.

The second floor of the building is a large hall, 100 feet by 100 feet, of which H. M. E. Evans is the Edmonton manager. The third floor is a quarter of a million dollars of the bank.

One hundred and fifty-one persons were arrested, brought before the magistrate and released.

Two of the alleged ringleaders, who are said to have charged from 32 to 50, are now in jail in New Westminster. The others were turned back at the boundary, being refused admission, but not allowed to leave the country.

Immigrants were mostly Russians, and a few Ukrainians.
